

Loyola University New Orleans

Faculty Position in Management International Management and Strategic Management

The Joseph A. Butt, S.J., College of Business at Loyola University New Orleans seeks a tenure-track assistant/associate professor of management commencing the 2005-2006 academic year. Responsibilities include teaching strategic management/policy and international management at the undergraduate and graduate (MBA) levels. Additional consideration will be given to individuals who can also teach in one of the following areas: MIS, leadership, supply-chain management or e-business,. Minimum qualifications include a Ph.D. or D.B.A in management or the equivalent. Preference will be given to candidates who have an established record of quality teaching and research.

Loyola University New Orleans is a very selective, well-endowed Jesuit institution with approximately 5,800 students. The College of Business Administration has 34 full-time faculty. The College offers the BBA, BAcc and MBA degrees to 700 students and is accredited by AACSB International – The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business.

Please submit a letter of application and resume to: Chair of Search Committee, Position CB4, Loyola University New Orleans, Box 15, New Orleans, LA 70118. Applications will be considered until the position is filled; however, applicants are encouraged to submit applications by 15 August 2004 for full consideration.

Representatives from the Area of Management and Legal Studies will conduct interviews at the forthcoming Academy of Management meeting in New Orleans and the Academy of International Business meeting in Stockholm. Our contact at AOM will be Dr. Wing Fok, Area Chairman (fok@loyno.edu). At AIB, please contact Dr. Miguel Caldas (mpcaldas@loyno.edu),

Loyola University New Orleans is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply.