Candidates will be expected to contribute to the PhD program in International Business by serving on committees and chairing dissertations.

Required qualification for appointment at the Assistant Professor rank is a PhD in hand by August 31, 2005. Candidates should have strong evidence or promise of scholarly research and effective teaching.

Required qualifications at the Associate and Full Professor rank are a PhD; a substantial and continuing body of research in peer-reviewed scholarly journals, interest in contributing to the IB doctoral program, including dissertation supervision; and a record of effective teaching and program support.

UTEP is located in El Paso, Texas, a city of 800,000 at the western most tip of the state. The sun shines 302 days per year in El Paso. Low humidity and moderate rainfall combine to create a mild, year-round desert climate. El Paso is on the border with Mexico. El Paso's Mexican sister city, Juárez, has a rapidly growing population that now stands at 1.8 million joining with El Paso to form the largest bi-national metropolitan area in the world. UTEP's student population is more than two-thirds Mexican American, and 9% of our students come from Mexico. The Carnegie Foundation recently ranked UTEP in the Doctoral/Research University-Intensive category, placing it among the top 7% of all colleges and universities in the country. UTEP's location provides perspectives on a wide range of national and international issues, and gives students rich social and cultural experiences not available on most university campuses. UTEP has emphasized the importance of external funding and ranks 4th among Texas universities in the amount of research grants and sponsored projects obtained. The National Science Foundation has designated UTEP as a Model Institution for Excellence, one of only six in the country.
