

AMERICAN UNIVERSITY – KOGOD SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

Assistant/Associate Professor (tenure-track) in International Trade and Supply Chain Management

The Kogod School of Business invites applications and nominations for a tenure-track faculty position in the department of International Business beginning in September 2008. The appointment is subject to final budgetary approval.

ABOUT AMERICAN UNIVERSITY:

Located in Washington, D.C. American University (AU) has more than 11,000 undergraduate and graduate students from across the United States and more than 150 countries. As a global university, AU actively promotes international understanding and has a tradition of welcoming international scholars and students. Our location provides direct access to international centers for trade, development and commerce and the opportunity to network with business, technology and government executives.

ABOUT THE KOGOD SCHOOL OF BUSINESS AND THE IB DEPARTMENT:

The Kogod School of Business, is an exciting, entrepreneurial institution with more than 1,250 MBA and undergraduate students. The Kogod School is known for a faculty with expertise in finance, accounting, international business, real estate, management, marketing and global information technology, and for its competitive advantage of interacting with the financial, regulatory, and technology communities of the greater Washington D.C. area. Kogod emphasizes the interdisciplinary nature of our programs including joint programs with other academic units on campus such as the School of International Service and the Washington College of Law.

The Department of International Business has ten full-time faculty members including two executives-in-residence. The Department offers a broad selection of courses in international business and has recently created MBA-level career tracks in international trade/export-import management, global emerging markets, and international consulting which it is implementing together with other academic departments at Kogod. A number of faculty members in the department have teaching and research interests in emerging market issues, and actively collaborate in this field as well as in others with members from other departments, especially finance, global information technology and management.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Teaching: Graduate and undergraduate courses, in export-import management, global supply chain management, market entry strategies and international business.
- Research: Top – tier research in the designated field
- Service: Participation in department, school and university activities as needed.

Salary Competitive

QUALIFICATIONS:

Ph.D. in international business/business administration/international economics or related field, or anticipated completion by August 31, 2008. Academic and business background that would allow the individual to develop expertise in the field of international trade/export/import management/supply chain management. Interest in emerging markets a plus.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE:

Applicants should e-mail a curriculum vitae and a cover letter that summarizes research, teaching experience and teaching evaluations. Other materials will be requested at a later date as necessary. Please send this material electronically to: anger@american.edu

CONTACT: Mrs. Danielle Anger/Office of the Dean
Kogod School of Business
American University
Washington DC 20016-8044
Tel: (202) 885-1963

Please visit us at <http://www.kogod.american.edu>

American University is an equal opportunity-affirmative action employer committed to a diverse faculty, staff and student body. Women and minorities are strongly encouraged to apply.