

UOIT (University of Ontario Institute of Technology) is Ontario's newest and first laptop based university, offering career focused undergraduate and graduate degree programs in the fields of business and information technology; sciences; engineering; health sciences; criminology, justice and policy studies and education. UOIT's campus of spectacular new buildings with a full range of wired and wireless, high-tech lecture halls, classrooms and research labs is located in the Durham region, within an easy one hour's drive of downtown Toronto.

The Faculty of Business and Information Technology is well positioned and poised for further growth, having established itself as a leader in the unique programmes offered through the recruitment of faculty with excellent records of achievement in research and scholarship and the cultivation of a captivating, technologically-based learning environment. Programs offered are designed to provide students with a broad range of skills in a variety of fields including commerce, with specializations in accounting, marketing, e-commerce and finance as well as information technology, with specializations in game development and entrepreneurship, networking and IT security. To learn more about the Faculty and the programs offered please go to <http://www.businessandit.uoit.ca>.

A member of the senior administrative team of UOIT, the new Dean will be responsible for the leadership and advancing the reputation of this dynamic and ambitious Faculty, which has a large role to play within UOIT and the community. The ideal candidate will bring innovative academic leadership experience and have a strong record of achievement in teaching, research and administration. A PhD is required.

The University of Ontario Institute of Technology is an equal opportunity employer and welcomes applications from qualified women and men, including members of visible minorities, Aboriginal peoples and persons with disabilities. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Should you wish to learn more about this unique leadership opportunity, please call Scott Nason, Kelly Baron or Libby Dybikowski at 604.913.7768 or forward your CV, a letter of introduction and the names of three referees, in confidence, to Provence Consulting Inc., email search@provenceconsulting.com

We will communicate with all who express interest.