

School of Business Administration at the University of Miami
Tenure-track Assistant Professor of International Business

Description:

The Department of Management in the School of Business Administration at the University of Miami is recruiting for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in the area of International Business to start work in the Fall 2009. Preference will be given to candidates with an international strategy research focus. Candidates with a good publication record and a few years of teaching experience are encouraged to apply as the selected candidate may be either a junior or senior Assistant Professor. Position requires maintaining an active/high-quality research program and teaching at graduate/undergraduate level(s). The school provides generous support for research related activities.

Requirements:

Appropriate candidates should have completed or will complete prior to Fall 2009, a doctorate from AACSB-accredited research institution in International Business or Strategic Management. Candidates should have published (or have in-press) articles in top-tier journals and demonstrated teaching excellence.

Application Process

To apply please email only your CV to susan@miami.edu - sorry, we cannot accept telephone inquiries. Applications will be considered until position is filled. Salary will be competitive and commensurate with qualifications. University of Miami is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer.
