

SETON HALL UNIVERSITY
Stillman School of Business

Position Description:

The Department of Management in Stillman School of Business, Seton Hall University, invites applications for a tenure-track position in Fall 2009.

The primary teaching responsibilities include international business and general management at the graduate and undergraduate levels.

The School:

Seton Hall University is a nationally ranked, private and independent Catholic institution, founded in 1856. The university is the oldest diocesan university in the U.S. with nine schools and colleges. Its main campus is in South Orange, New Jersey, 14 miles from New York City. The Stillman School of Business is AACSB-accredited at both graduate and undergraduate levels. Its undergraduate program is ranked 57 in Business Week 2008 Survey of US business schools and its MBA is ranked 77 of the top global 100 by the Aspen Institute, Beyond Grey Pinstripes.

Position Requirements:

A Ph.D. from an AACSB-accredited program in management and international business is desired but will consider ABD candidates in the final stage of dissertation. Successful candidates will demonstrate evidence of excellence in teaching and scholarly research, and willingness to serve the university and the community.

Interested candidates should submit a one-page statement of research and teaching interests, academic vita, evidence of teaching excellence, and three references to: Jason Yin, Professor and Chair, 683 Jubilee Hall, Department of Management, Stillman School of Business, Seton Hall University, South Orange, New Jersey 07079. Review of applications will be ongoing and will continue until the position is filled.
