

The Management Group in the Lee Kong Chian School of Business at Singapore Management University invites applications for positions at the Associate and Full Professor ranks starting in July 2010 or later. Candidates will be considered for tenure-track, tenured and visiting positions. Candidates should have an established research record including top-tier journal publications, and be research-active and interested in contributing to the research environment and institution.

About the Management Group: The Management Group is an international body of 20 tenure-track and practice track faculty members. They work across the following research areas: international business, strategic management, entrepreneurship, macro-organisational theory and technology and innovation management. They are drawn from leading universities in the United States and Europe. There is a strong research culture and a collegial atmosphere. Further information about the group is available at: http://www.business.smu.edu.sg/faculty/index_discgrp.asp?discgrp=MGMT. Working conditions and compensation are comparable to major research universities in the United States. Conference support, research grants, and a visiting scholar program are available.

About Singapore Management University and the Lee Kong Chian School of Business: Set up as Singapore's first privately-managed university offering a style of education modelled after The Wharton School, SMU occupies a state-of-the-art city campus located in the heart of Singapore's civic, cultural and business districts. SMU's vision is to be a premier university, internationally recognised for its world class research and distinguished teaching. Today, SMU is home to more than 6,000 students and 270 faculty members and comprises six schools. The Lee Kong Chian School of Business is the largest school, and is home to 3,000 students and over 100 full-time faculty members. The school has undergraduate, graduate professional (including MBA) and research degrees, and a number of research centers. For information about living in Singapore please see: www.smu.edu.sg/faculty/recruitment/singapore_resources.asp.

Application procedure and deadline: We will begin reviewing applications on 1 October 2009 and continue until positions are filled. Prospective applicants should send a detailed cv (including references) and an expression of interest to the recruitment coordinator, Ted Tschang (tedt@smu.edu.sg), with copy to managementcv@smu.edu.sg. We may request additional materials of applicants later. We will also be meeting prospective candidates at the Academy of International Business Meeting in San Diego and at the Academy of Management Meeting in Chicago, so if you would like to schedule a meeting (subject to available times), you should send in your materials by 22 June for the AIB meeting or 30 July 2009 for the AOM meeting. All correspondence should be tagged with the header "Associate/Full Professor of Management Position". Please direct any queries to Ted Tschang.
