

Universidad EAFIT
School of Business Administration
Department of International Business
Assistant Professor

EAFIT, which stands for Escuela de Administración, Finanzas y Tecnologías (School of Business, Finance and Technologies), was founded in 1960 as the country's first business school and has since grown into an institution with more than 11,000 students in 17 undergraduate-, 71 graduate- and 2 PhD programs. The Department of International Business offers Colombia's leading undergraduate International Business program with 1,300 students and is also a forerunner in International Business research in the country. To expand its international full-time staff of 12 members, the Department is opening a new position for Assistant Professor starting January 2010.

Candidates should have received their PhD or be near completion and have a demonstrated track record of research and teaching in the areas of international management, international trade or international relations. Excellent English communication skills are a must, and Spanish language abilities a plus.

The professor is expected to teach courses in English at the undergraduate and graduate levels and to undertake research in one of the above mentioned areas.

Interested faculty should email a resume and letter of interest describing research and teaching interests, by October 12th at the latest, to:
