Canada Research Chair (Tier II) “Automotive Business”

The University of Windsor’s Odette School of Business invites applications for the position of Canada Research Chair (Tier II) in Automotive Enterprise, Innovation and Industry Competitiveness (CRC-AIC).

The successful applicant will build upon the University of Windsor’s significant interdisciplinary and institutional research resources in automotive, economics, entrepreneurship, international business, marketing, operations strategy, and cross-border transportation, to enhance and enable Canadian-based manufacturing capacity. In doing so, the CRC-AIC is expected to become Canada’s leading academic on the economic and strategic aspects of the global automotive industry.

The Chair will be expected to produce original research, collaborate with our world-leading graduate students and post-doctoral fellows, lead public education and policy development initiatives, and expand our global network of links with other researchers and institutions.

For a detailed position description, application procedures, and a statement of the University’s commitment to equity and diversity, please visit us at www.uwindsor.ca/facultypositions.