UNIVERSITY OF NORTHERN IOWA
Assistant/Associate Professor of Strategy
Department of Management

A tenure-track position as Assistant or Associate Professor of Management is available for August 2013. Primary teaching responsibilities include strategy courses taught to undergraduate students with secondary teaching duties in international management or organizational theory. Additional teaching assignments might include related topics and courses in the MBA program. Applicants who seek a balance of teaching/research responsibilities preferred. The department encourages applications from persons of color, women, persons living with disabilities, and veterans.

Required qualifications include a Ph.D. in Strategic Management or a related business field from a nationally or internationally recognized doctoral program (ABD in Strategic Management with evidence of degree completion by August 2013 will be considered), a record of excellence in teaching, demonstrated ability to produce publishable research in business-related journals, and demonstrated organizational, communication and interpersonal skills. Preferred qualifications include secondary interest in Organization Theory or International Management, business experience, and active participation in appropriate professional associations. Rank dependent on qualifications and experience. Pre-employment background checks are required. To apply, visit http://business.uni.edu/positions. Applications will be accepted beginning June 21, 2012, with full consideration of applications received by September 1, 2012. Preliminary interviews will be conducted at the Academy of Management meeting in Boston. For more information, contact Search Chair, Dr. Atul Mitra, Professor of Management, at Atul.Mitra@uni.edu or by phone at 319-273-6202.

EOE/AA
The University is a smoke-free campus