TWO ASSISTANT PROFESSORSHIPS IN
Global Strategy
Rotterdam School of Management, Erasmus University

- Job Opening: Assistant Professor in Global Strategy, Starting 2014
- Contact person and details for applications: Carolien Heintjes (cheintjes@rsm.nl)
- Representative who will attend the meeting in Istanbul: Arjen Slangen (aslangen@rsm.nl)

The Department of Strategic Management and Entrepreneurship at the Rotterdam School of Management (RSM), Erasmus University invites applications for two tenure-track positions in Global Strategy at the Assistant Professor level. Candidates should have a doctorate degree or be in their final year of dissertation research (ABD candidates are welcome to apply). We are looking for candidates with the potential to build a record of excellence in both research and teaching, and whose work is profoundly at the core of the field of Global Strategy. In particular, we aim to build academic knowledge and expertise in the following key areas: international entry and expansion strategies of multinational companies, the impact of institutional change on global business, comparative management, head office-subsidiary relationships, emerging markets and emerging market multinationals, and the contextual influences on the formulation and implementation of strategies around the world.

Preliminary interviews will be held at the annual meeting of the AIB in Istanbul. To be considered for a preliminary interview, please email your vita to the departmental secretary Mrs. Carolien Heintjes (cheintjes@rsm.nl) before June 26. Interested candidates are welcome to formally apply by sending a complete application package (including motivation letter, current vita, job market paper, concise research statement, teaching evaluations or statement, and three letters of recommendation) to the chair of the department (Pursey Heugens; pheugens@rsm.nl) and the departmental secretary (Carolien Heintjes; cheintjes@rsm.nl). The initial deadline for applications is September 30, 2013. However, applications will be accepted until the positions are filled. Promising candidates will be invited to come to RSM for a campus visit and job talk between November 1st and December 15th. If you would like to have more information prior to a possible application, please do not hesitate to contact Pursey Heugens (pheugens@rsm.nl), Taco Reus (treus@rsm.nl) or Arjen Slangen (aslangen@rsm.nl) directly.

About the department. The department ranks amongst the top departments in Europe in terms of its research productivity and impact. Faculty have recently published in such journals as the Academy of Management Journal, Academy of Management Review, Journal of International Business Studies, Strategic Management Journal, Journal of Management Studies, Management Science, Organization Science, and Organization Studies. The department offers its own pre-experience master programs in strategic management and in entrepreneurship and new business venturing, as well as post-experience executive programs in strategic management and in management consulting. In addition, the department contributes to the RSM's undergraduate, MBA, and EMBA programs, and to the MPhil and PhD programs of Erasmus University. The departmental faculty is on average demographically young, and is increasingly involved in academic leadership roles in both North American and European scholarly associations like the AOM, EGOS, EURAM, SMS, and SAMS.

About Rotterdam, the Netherlands. Rotterdam is the second-largest city in the Netherlands and has Europe’s biggest port. It is vibrantly international, accommodating some 600,000 people (1.2 million in the greater metropolitan area) from 160 different countries. Its landscape is modern, with high rising towers and creative architecture. In addition to being an important business and logistics hub, the city also has an extensive cultural, restaurant, and entertainment scene. Rotterdam is the gateway to Europe, as Paris, London, Brussels, Berlin, and many other great destinations can all be reached in a few hours. The capital city of Amsterdam is less than an hour away by train or car.